From the Dean

Truro Cathedral exists to proclaim the glory of God through its worship, prayer and mission. It is a place of beauty, holiness, music, peace, architectural wonder, and spaciousness, where those of every tradition and none can come and experience something of the love of God. Many people regularly worship at the Cathedral, and many visitors come each year also. Some are just curious; others seek solace, advice, or just a place to be still and to encounter something of the wonder and the mystery of God.

Helping to sustain the many and varied aspects of Cathedral life are the Friends of Truro Cathedral who assist the Chapter by providing practical and financial support. New members are always welcome. If you would like to support Truro Cathedral in this way, your help would be very much appreciated.

Wherever you live you can become a Friend of Truro Cathedral. Membership brings with it many opportunities to share more fully in the life of the Cathedral and these are detailed in this leaflet.

Please join now by completing and returning the application form overleaf.

Thank you

Roger Bush

Dean of Truro and President of the Friends
